Information

Lilian Peake, MD has served as the Director of Public Health at DHEC since December 2016. She provides strategic direction for public health, leading its 1,700 Public Health employees. She ensures the delivery of appropriate, timely and quality services at DHEC's 77 public health offices, located in every county in the state, and the performance of the Central Office Bureaus of Community Health Services, Communicable Disease Prevention and Control, Maternal and Child Health, Health Improvement and Equity, Chronic Disease and Injury Prevention, Public Health Laboratory, and Public Health Preparedness.

Ericka Burroughs-Girardi, MA, MPH is a Community Coach at County Health Rankings & Roadmaps, a collaboration of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and the University of Wisconsin Population Health Institute (UWPHI). Her role is to provide strategic guidance to communities that want to put the County Health Rankings into action for community health improvement. She is part of a team that develops online tools to connect communities to evidence-informed strategies and foster peer learning, delivers technical assistance and training, and recognizes and celebrates health improvement

Kellye A. McKenzie currently serves as Director of Health at Trident United Way (TUW), where she leads health focused collective impact efforts to improve Tri-County health outcomes through the Healthy Tri-County initiative. She also serves as a Managing Partner of GOODSTOCK Consulting, which seeks to connect hospitals, businesses and social service agencies to produce measurable health changes and equitable long-term healthcare impact within underserved communities.

Rick Foster, MD serves as the Executive Director of the Alliance for a Healthier South Carolina and as Senior Advisor to the Association in the area of Population Health Improvement. Dr. Foster has served in a senior executive role with SCHA since 2007, initially serving as Senior VP for Quality and Patient Safety. He also serves as a population health consultant to the SC Department of Health and Human Services, the SC Office of Rural Health and SC DHEC, and as a senior strategic advisor to Sharing Hope SC, the Organ Procurement Organization for South Carolina. Prior to joining SCHA, Rick served as chief medical officer for Trident Health System in Charleston, S.C. His primary responsibilities at SCHA include leading the work of the Alliance for a Healthier South Carolina and providing consultative services and technical assistance to SC organizations at the state and community levels committed to achieving the Triple Aim of better health and healthcare for all South Carolinians at lower cost through collective impact.
