About the Program

Located in scenic Myrtle Beach, our residency program provides training in modern, spacious facilities under the guidance of collegial and enthusiastic faculty. We strive to balance the needs of residents to be proficient in managing a wide range of pathology seen in the inpatient and outpatient settings, in performing procedures, and in addressing the psychosocial aspects of patient care. Residents also participate in case scenarios in our state-of-the-art simulation training lab, which allows them to learn and perfect clinical skills and procedures in a safe, nonthreatening environment.
