

Creating Cultures of Trauma-Informed Care

DESCRIPTION

Many of those we serve have experienced significant trauma in their lives. Trauma –Informed Care is a means of insuring we “ do no harm” in working with those who have been wounded while demonstrating what is effective in working with them. Creating a culture of trauma-informed care provides a lens through which we can evaluate our own programs and services to ensure they support healing in those impacted by trauma. This training will evaluate the principles of Trauma-Informed Care and the application of those principles with our places of service.

OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this course, the participant should be able to:

1. Define Trauma.
2. Explain Trauma-Informed Care Principles.
