

Pediatric Nursing Certification Review Course

Wednesday & Thursday, June 5 & 6, 2024

This 2-day course is a certification review course for pediatric nurses looking to earn their pediatric certification. Growth and development and disease processes will be the primary focus, along with a helpful overview of the two different certification exams and study tips.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this program, the participant should be able to:

1. Compare the ANCC Pediatric Certification exam to the PNCB Pediatric Certification exam with test-taking strategies.
2. Review attributes of the pediatric patient.
3. Discuss assessment tools for the pediatric patient.
4. Examine pediatric pathophysiology with treatment modalities.
5. Determine diagnostic tests or screenings.
6. Analyze outcome measures.
7. Plan coordination of individualized care.
8. Support the pediatric patient as part of the family unit.
9. Contrast legal with ethical considerations when caring for the pediatric patient.
10. Summarize chronic disease management.

INSTRUCTOR

Lori Tisdale, MSN, CPN, CNE

Lori earned her BSN in 2010 from the Medical University of South Carolina. She has worked as a nurse for an inpatient pediatric hematology/oncology unit and later for outpatient clinics including GI, cardiac, genetics, pulmonology, and surgery. She then transitioned to work as a hospital educator for the outpatient clinics as well as inpatient pediatric units. Lori then went on to earn a Master's in Nursing Education from Charleston Southern in 2016 and began teaching pediatric nursing and lifespan development at Charleston Southern University in 2018.

Lori has earned certifications, both as a Certified Nurse Educator and a Certified Pediatric Nurse. Her passion is providing safe and compassionate pediatric care for her patients and families and helping students gain comfort and appreciation for pediatric nursing. She enjoys promoting pediatric certification and has taught numerous courses to help registered nurses gain this honor.

Lori feels fortunate to call the South Carolina Low Country her home, where she and her husband have a daughter in high school and two German Shorthaired Pointers that keep them very busy.
